Create a new Power BI Desktop file, and get a list of the top 1000 films of all time, as rated by They Shoot Pictures, Don't They? You can find the link you need at this page of our website.

Choose the option shown here to get data from the web. If you haven't got Internet access, or the web page is no longer valid, you can import the data instead from the Excel workbook in the above folder (choosing the Films table).

Create a table to look something like this:

Top 1000 films
Pos	Title	Director	Minutes
1	Citizen Kane	Welles, Orson	119
2	Vertigo	Hitchcock, Alfred	128
3	2001: A Space Odyssey	Kubrick, Stanley	139
4	Tokyo Story	Ozu, Yasujiro	134
5	Rules of the Game, The	Renoir, Jean	113
6	Godfather, The	Coppola, Francis Ford	175
7	8 1/2	Fellini, Federico	135
8	Sunrise	Murnau, F.W.	110
9	Seven Samurai	Kurosawa, Akira	200
10	Searchers, The	Ford, John	119
11	Apocalypse Now	Coppola, Francis Ford	150
12	Bicycle Thieves	De Sica, Vittorio	90
Total			118595

The films are in position order, and the table has a title and totals.

Save this Power BI file with the name Citizen bloody Kane again, then exit this instance of Power BI Desktop.